Secretary Davis and Gen. Summerall at Marlboro as Test Drive Is Ended.

Upper Marlboro, Md., July 17 .- The Army's lack of modern fighting and transportation machines was strikingly illustrated in the hills of southern Maryland today when the Nation's first motorized military force was put through its paces on a practice march between Fort Leonard Wood and Up-

Out of 250 machines mobilized by the War Department for the test, hardly more than a dozen were of modern anufacture. Observers gathered along the line of march saw a parade of obolete wartime trucks, tractors and other equipment, most of which had een in the possession of the Army for at least eleven years. Four light tanks, two cargo carriers, five recently manufactured and highly praised cros country trucks and a few cross-coun-try cars made up the only up-to-dat-equipment which the Army was able to muster for the exhibition.

Davis Among Spectators. Davis Among Spectators.

Secretary of War Davis, Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, Col. Charles S. Lincoln, head of the Army's "mechanization board," and a score of other high officers from the various combat branches came out to watch, the Army's first serious attempt to get in step with the modern trend toward machine warfare. Only a few, however, remained to see the experimental motorized unit complete its 42-mile journey. Scheduled to make the trip in slightly more than four hours, the aged equipment was not up to the task. battalion of the Thirty-fourth Infantry, four batteries of Artillery, an antiaircraft unit, two armored car ops with no armored cars, several companies, an ammunition train and other detachments necessary to the experimental force, participated in today's exhibition.

Not a single horse was in the column and nobody walked Automotive field kitchens supplied food for the 1,100 men.

The new equipment, especially the light tanks, which are considered the best machines developed in the American Army since the war, made the trip without a hitch The overloaded eleven and a half year old trucks, however, did not find the Maryland hills to their liking, and the mechanics put in a busy nine hours before the last truck was asfely naked was safely parked Infantry organizations riding on old trucks made the 42-mile trip in five

Officers Are Optimistic.

High officials, and especially those connected with the Army's summer experiments with machine weapons torized personne! at Fort L and motorized personnel at Fort Leonard Wood, were optimistic rather than discouraged by the day's maneuver.

They were greatly gratified by the performance of the few modern machines available. Col Lincoln and other officers said it had been expected that the old trucks would not be able to stand up under the demands made of them.

Machine and meterization experts Machine and mctorization experts were hopeful that today's demonstration of this country's shortage in modern machine equipment and the success achieved by the newly developed weapons would pave the way toward the appropriation of larger funds for motorization development work.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY'S RULE TO BE TESTED

Former Gov. Evans Questions Legality of Oath in South Carolina.

Greenville, S. C., July 17 (A.P.).—
The legality of the oath required by Democratic party rule No. 32 is to be contested by former Gov. John Gary Evans, of Spartanburg, he told Fred V. Johnson, an officer of the Greenville Hoover-for-President Club, in correspondence made public here today. Rule 32 requires that Democrats support all party nominees.

duct State-Wide Campaign

Dailas, Tex., July 17 (A.P.).—Opposition to the presidential candidacy of Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York was crystallized here today at a conference of anti-Smith Democrats of Texas, who pledged a State-wide campaign for the election of Herbert Hoover, the Republican presidential nominee.

Some 500 persons attended the rally, and among the speakers were half a dozen State party leaders, ministers and prohibition workers.

Resolutions were adopted denouncing Gov. Smith for his advocacy of a modification of the present prohibition laws. It was agreed to place an organization in every county of the State to work for the defeat of the Democratic presidential nominee.

Dr. J. D. Sandefer, president of Simmons College, Abilene, was elected permanent chairman of the conference. Alvin Moody, Houston, was made vice chairman and Mrs. Josephine Collins, Dallas, was chosen secretary.

Leaders of the anti-Smith movement asserted that more than 300,000 Texas Democrats would swing to the Hoover banner.

Since late President Porfirio Diaz, who ruled Mexico for more than 30 years, was driven from power in 1911 by the Francisco I. Madero revolution, Mexico has had twelve presidents-elect and provisional presidents. None of them had served a full term except Obregon, who held office in 1920-24.

Francisco Leon de la Barra was in office only a few deys after Porfirio Diaz was deposed of power through Madero's political plan of San Luis Potosi, May 26, 1911. Madero was inaugurated on November 30, 1915, but was driven from office and assassinated on February 22, 1913, during a local revolutionary movement in Mexico City, headed by Gens. Felix Diaz, a nephew of the former president, and Victoriano Huerta.

Victoriano Huerta made himself president after having arrested the members of congress, and on October 10, 1913, assumed complète control of the judicial and legislative powers, Huerta was overthrown by the plan of De Guadalup, which started the Venusiano Course and Course and Calles and Calles and Calles and Calles and Calles was elected to supersede Obregon, and Calles and Calles and Calles was elected resident and their leader became an exile in the United States.

political assassination, but there is no doubt but what Gen. Obregon induced his own death because of the many acts of violence done by his orders during the past few years. I might refer particularly to the summary executions of many high officers of the army, in violation of the constitution, which followed the so-called De la Huerta revolution of 1923-24, to say nothing of the execution of Gen. Francisco R. Serrano and his eleven civilian associates which occurred October 3, 1927. Conduct and Common Sense

WOMEN'S SHORT SLEEVES: MEN'S RINGS.

HAVE been asked very often about the etiquette of sleeveless daytime dresses. There is, at present, a mode which makes them fashionable on mode which makes them fashionable on certain occasions. They may be worn correctly in the country and at the seashore, when, in games, play is made easier, or any athletic sport demands it, or when at afternoon dancing teas or garden fetes, coolness is desired. The short-sleeved or eleeveless frock is then perfectly suitable. To sum up, it is in good taste for real use or real ornament. But there are times when it is bad form and should be forbidden. Any girl who goes to a business office in short sleeves looks distinctly second rate. In the streets of cities the sleeveless gown is all wrong. In traveling it is abominable. Girls should have more sense than to attire themselves in so conspicuously ill-judged a manner. Another place where custom considers it out of key is at church weddings. Of course, the at church weddings. Of course, the cape, or long bertha, or shoulder-velling fichu may now be used quite con-servatively, but the sleeve is even better.

I saw a girl dressed—as she thought very smartly—for travel the other day in a good beige costume with a cape, but her arms were bare to the shoulder.

REPLIES TO READERS.

DEAR Viola Paris—My knees are very bony. What can I do to develop them? I am not thin anywhere else. I am 34.

Answer—You will have to make a habit of regular exercise that will tone and build the muscles and tissues and litheness are characteristic of young muscles. Muscles would remain elastic longer if we would carry into the passing years some of the regular exercise of youth. It was play to us once. The deliberate exercise of manufacturity may not be play, but it can be made really enjoyable. I suggest the following as especially useful in building up the knees:

Stand erect, with one foot a little in advance of the other, toes pointed alightly outward. Rise on the balls of the feet, then slowly bend the knees is as deeply as you can and still maintain balance. Rise again to the erect position without assisting yourself with hands or arms. Repeat ten times, at the start, night and morning.

Bella—Dark circles under the eyes are often, though not always, caused by some internal disorder. Consult your physician first. If he finds nothing wrong, ask him to suggest a proper diet. Adhere to it, religiously, get plenty of rest and do not let a day go by without some exercise out of doors.

Make sure that your face receives a thorough cleansing every night.

MODISH MITZI

It is all settled. Mitzi is going to fly today. After she caught Dad sneaking out of the back door to get to the flying field he didn't have a word to say. She's going up with Dick this afternoon, and because it is such a special occasion she is putting on her prettiest clothes—this step-in of chiffon with a one-sided lace yoke seems right.

This dress, too. Most flying clothers are so uninteresting. Mitzi doesn't see why she shouldn't wear an advance fall model of black satin crepe with an odd and extremely smart scarf that is really cut in one with the sleeves. Very odd. Very smart. Dick ought to appreciate what trouble she is taking to look attractive on this first flight with him. (All rights protected by the George Matthew Adams Service-Trade Mark Registered U. S. Patent Office)

What a rude young man! "Not in those clothes," says Dick and this to Mitzi who has put on her very newest hat of velvet and tricot—a beret—a hat that is already announced as smart for fall. "What you need is overalls," Dick informs her and Mitzi wonders whether, after all, the thrill of flying is worth it! She's never owned any overalls,

20 ARE OVERCOME BY HEAT

Detroit, July 17 (A.P.).—Under a scorching sun a great peace-time army of 35,000 Knights Templar of the United States paraded for five hours through downtown Detroit today. Approximately half a million persons witnessed the spectacle.

It was the high spot of the thirty-seventh triennial conclave of this branch of Masonry and the plumed hats, flashing swords and glistening armor of the marchers presented a thrilling scene that brought wave after wave of cheers from the multitude of onlookers.

Following a three and a half mile route that led from the Masonic Temple through downtown streets and under a $100,000 jeweled arch and Passion Cross over Woodward avenue, the marchers carried the banners of commanderies from every State in the Union and Canada.

"Shortly before the crash I went to awaken Pontremoli (Italian scientist, still missing), who was sleeping, but met Dr. Finn Malmgren, who seemed worried. He told me the airship had been mismanaged.

"Returning to my seat I noticed a meter was indicating a rapid descent. Ceccino (motor chief) instantly threw out the last ballast of 170 kilos of metal. We immediately rose 400 meters. Then we rapidly began to descend again.

"About fifteen minutes after the initial crash and after the dirigible had carried off the Allesandri group (of six men) we saw smoke, but did not hear an explosion, which indicates the possibility that the group is alive.

"Our desire to investigate the area southeast of the Pole wrecked the dirigible as we purposely drifted with a storm to enable the making of this investigation.

"We remained over the Pole at a height of 150 meters for two hours. Scientific results of the expedition were satisfactory. I carried on scientific investigations after the fall."

ALVARO OBREGON.

The darkest aspect of the tragedy that has eliminated Gen. Alvaro Obregon immediately after his election to the presidency of Mexico is that it was destined to occur. Repeated attempts had been made to take his life after the disorders of last year, when popular opposition to the government's religious legislation became intense, and when Gen. Arnulfo Gomez and Gen. Francisco Serrano, candidates for the presidency, started a revolt that ended in their execution. It was alleged by many Mexicans that these leaders were not guilty of sedition, but were run to earth for the purpose of insuring the election of Gen. Obregon without any opposition whatever. Whether this allegation be true or not, the fact remains that no candidate appeared against Obregon, who was elected on July 1 to take office December 1 next.

Scattered bands of Mexicans are still fighting the government in various parts of the country, but there seems to be little or no concerted action, and President Calles' pursuit of the rebels has been vigorous and effective. He posted armed forces at places where disorders might have been expected on election day. Thus, on the surface, the election of Obregon was peaceful and unanimous, but no one familiar with the situation could doubt that Obregon was in constant danger. Yesterday the blow was struck, near the City of Mexico, and Obregon fell with five shots in his body.

Aside from his acknowledged conviction that it was necessary to wield an iron hand in governing Mexico, Gen. Obregon had proved himself to be an enterprising and industrious leader. His administration was marked by the resumption of diplomatic relations with the United States, and he frequently expressed a desire to cultivate friendship with this country. His business interests brought him into contact with many Americans, who found him upright in all his dealings. He thoroughly approved of all that President Calles had done in the religious controversy, which lately seems to have taken a more favorable turn. On his part Calles faithfully paved the way for the election of Obregon, believing him to be preeminently qualified to administer the government. Gen. Obregon was a most capable military leader, and was greatly admired by Mexican army officers.

The constitution of Mexico provides that a president can not be reelected until after an intervening term. President Calles can not constitutionally succeed himself: but the constitution can be easily amended. Mexico is seething with excitement as a result of the assassination of Obregon, and it is too early to foresee what will be done in the matter of selecting a president. Calles, however, now seems to be the only man in Mexico capable of piloting the ship. and there is abundant time in which to revise the constitution so that he may remain for another term. On the day that news of Obregon's death' is received, the body of Capt. Emilio Carranza is leaving New York for the funeral in Mexico. The hearts of Americans warmed toward this young hero, whose modesty, skill and daring were so admirable, and who was so tragically hurled to earth by a furious storm. He incarnated the soaring spirit of the race that conquered seas and empires in the New World, and throughout Mexico his gallantry inspired millions to lift up their heads and work for more glorious life. The true lovers and well-wishers of Mexico include the great majority of Americans. They are saddened and perplexed as they contemplate the fateful blows that strike down the aspirations of the Mexican people. But it is a nation that achieved its own freedom and independence, and it will work out its own salvation against all obstacles.

THE WHOLESALE MARKET.

The Potomac Freight Terminals Co. has announced that it will begin immediately, with the cooperation of the Pennsylvania Railroad, a comprehensive development of the area lying between Fourteenth, D. Twelfth, Tenth and Water streets and the Washington Channel into a "modern, coordinated wholesale market The project is of importance to the entire community. The Government building program has forced abandonment of the present wholesale market district. For months controversy has raged as to where this district could best be relocated.

Each of the several sites suggested for reocation of the wholesale market has its advantages. The fact that a bill to establish the Farmers' Market in the Southwest area was passed by the House in the last session after ong and stormy public hearings may be taken to indicate that majority sentiment favors such development in this area. Nevertheless, those who supported other sites announced that they would continue the fight. It is probable that the matter would have been indefinitely delaved had no outside development appeared to influence the decision.

Location of a coordinated wholesale market district in Southwest Washington should serve to quiet further opposition to location of the Farmers' Market in that area. In addition, the new center will facilitate the economic distribution of the District's perishable food supplies. The fact that the wholesale district has been forced to move because of the Federal building program will prove to be a blessing.

RUSH HOUR CABS.

The Independent Taxicab Owners Association, "pending a thorough study by the Public Utilities Commission of the advisability of such service," has suspended the 10-cent flat rate rush hour service inaugurated last week. The independents have brought forcibly to public attention the fact that the law governing operation of public utilities is not clearly drawn in certain respects. It should be clarified forthwith, not only so that the Diamond Cab operators will know how they stand should they desire to resume operation on a flat-rate basis, but also so that the commission will know definitely what its powers and rights may be should similar cases arise in the future. Operation by the independents of the flat rate rush hour service was not entirely successful. Throughout the four days of operation there was demonstrated a striking lack of cooperation between individual drivers. Frequently would-be passengers took seats in cabs and after waiting in vain for the cabs to be filled, were forced to utilize bus or street car to get to work on time. In the rains of last Saturday morning the service broke down almost completely. The temptation to solicit full-pay passengers was too great for most drivers, and they abandoned the cut-rate traffic in the knowledge that rainy-day scarcity of cabs would make patrons assured. If, then, the cut-rate business is to be resumed, it would seem that two improvements in service must be made. First, cabs must be dispatched upon more or less regular schedule, whether full or not. Second, service must be maintained, rain or shine, every working day of the year.

The independents have acted wisely in abandoning their cut-rate service until such time as the commission can complete a comprehensive study as to its advisability. Acting upon the knowledge gained in four days' operation the operators should be able to make a good case before the commission as to the public need and desire for such service.

MURDER ON THE DECREASE.

Murder is on the decline in New York, ac cording to the Baumes Crime Commission. A omparison of crime statistics for 1925 and 1927 shows a decrease of 80 in the number of murders and manslaughters. In the latter year murder registered but one-half of 1 er cent of all felonies. It would be interesting to place this showing alongside that of Chicago, for the same years.

The fact remains, however, that the number of murders and manslaughters in New York for the year 1927 was 278. Considered apart from the total number of crimes of all classes, this is a shocking record, even for a population as large as that of the Empire State. The Baumes law, which provides a life sentence for those convicted of four felonies, certainly has had something to do with the diminishing number of capital crimes, inasmuch as the general restraint put upon crime would react upon the number of the graves offenses. That law seeks to strike crime at its root, rather than to distinguish keenly between the offenses themselves. It says that the man who commits as many as four felonies, for which he is convicted, is thereby shown to be of incorrigible criminal character and unfit to be at large. Although one crime does not establish a criminal character, repeated crimes are presumed to do so. Liberty, next to life is dear to the individual, and total loss of liberty carries horror to any but the most reck-

SECURITY FROM GAS POISON.

Experiments made to show the localities where the air is freest from dust and impurities, such as were put through in this city a year ago, might very well be generally entered upon, particularly in the big industrial cities where the correction of air contamination is a matter of first importance for the public health. The subject has been approached at various angles, and expert studies have been made as to the conditions which are responsible for the contamination of the atmosphere, with proposals for meeting them. One of the important investigations recently made is that by the Society of Automotive Engineers, according to the Public Health Service. This report confines itself to the control of conditions arising from the discharge of carbon monoxide gases from the exhausts of automobiles. While this is not rated a grave contributor to air contamination in the public thoroughfares, yet the facts with respect to the matter have not as yet all been sifted out. It nevertheless seems certain that in the open this gas does not collect in volumes to affect either health tunnels, the physiological effects of the gas, the chemical aspects of using ozone as an offset to health hazards and the use of ozone in garage ventilation. It has been found out that, contrary to the views of many who have to do with garages, that ozone has little value in offsetting the hazards from carbon monoxide gas. Thus far in the study as made, ventilation ranks without a peer in the practical offset of this subtle hazard to health and life. So simple an expedient may be had for both public and private garages readily enough.

However, the report covers wide ranges of interrelated subjects such as the carbon mon-

Tunnels, especially those of early construction, which are poorly supplied with ventilation, collect and hold the gas, ridding themselves of it entirely only where suction fans are used to supplement ventilating vents. Whatever is lacking in specific knowledge of the low concentration of the gas-and studies by medical, engineering and mines bodies have supplied a great bulk of literature-there remains the caution which is emphasized by them all, of the need for effective safeguarding of the health, by State and municipal authorities, of all who are exposed to the danger of asphyxlation from this source.

TRAFFIC AND POLICE.

Is the conflict between the offices of the superintendent of police and the director of traffic to be renewed? When the office of director of traffic was established it was expected that the Police Department would welcome the opportunity to lighten its duties, The new office was to undertake a readjustment of traffic, centering its attention upon new regulations and leaving to the Police Department the duty of enforcing the regulations. Almost immediately, however, the question arose as to whether the superintendent of police or the director of traffic had authority over traffic. A truce finally was effected through an order of the District Commissioners directing the traffic office to submit duplicate copies of any regulations simultaneously to the board and to the superintendent of police. Under this arrangement the two offices have worked together apparently harmoniously.

Several days ago, however, the superintendent of police announced that he had suggested to the Commissioners that the regulation requiring use of parking lights be rescinded. The traffic director objected to the proposal, and indicated that he was surprised and annoyed that the suggestion should have been made before his opinion had been solicited. The superintendent of police thereupon cited the act creating the traffic department, expressing the opinion that it made the director of traffic subordinate to the superintendent of police, and asserted that he would make recommendations as to traffic whenever and however he saw fit.

The Commissioners should settle this matter forthwith. If the traffic department is to function smoothly and efficiently it must receive the full cooperation of the police. Likewise, if the police are to handle traffic properly they must function in harmony with the director of traffic. No two departments of munic ipal government could be more closely linked from a functional standpoint than these. The problem of traffic control will be hopelessly involved unless the District authorities work together in harmony

THE MODERN UNIVERSITY.

When Lord Meston was installed the other day as chancellor of Aberdeen University, Scotland, in succession to the late Duke of Richmond and Gordon, he delivered an address, the main purpose of which was to show how profoundly modified have become the erstwhile basic conceptions of the functions of a university, and how the university is to meet the demands which these new views of its purpose in existing make upon it.

It is evident, he said, that the leaders of industry are turning more and more to the universities for help in questions of produc-In such inquiries there is an intellectual challenge which makes them welcome, even if the attempt to answer them threatens soon to sweep away from the university professor the little leisure that his primary duties still leave him. In some universities the situation has been met by the establishment of special research chairs free from the drudgery of class work, but this is a luxury not within the reach of every center of the higher learning and justified only by the existence of a generous endowment or of one raised or given specifically ad hoc. As a matter of fact, how to undertake or continue such work, in "advancement of knowledge," as that for which the help of the university is being constantly invoked, constitutes a practical financial problem difficult of solution. One obvious way out would be for industry to come to the rescue with endowments from which it legitimately hope to reap and gather a hundredfold harvest.

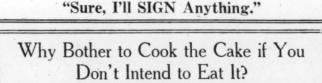

It is, at all events, refreshing to notice that captains of industry and practical business men have lost, or are rapidly losing, the suspicions and the poor opinion that they formerly entertained of the college-bred man. There is more said now than once was fashionable in favor of the man with the trained intellect and the consequently broader outlook. The result is that drafts are being made on the universities for the best men they can furnish to step into immediate training for responsible positions in the world of industry and of business and commerce. To meet these drafts the universities have enlarged, liberalized and modernized their courses and in doing so have displayed both vision and wisdom.

But while applied science is being cultivated, abstract or pure science, which is in reality the base of the other, must not be neglected. Here is where there is room for the more subtle allurements of knowledge. There is room also for a sound philosophy of life, without which all else is but Dead Sea fruit. The university, if true to its primary calling and its main function, will steadily cultivate pure science and just as steadily inculcate the proper philosophy of life.

Britain's Capital.

London, England.

Now I am in London, a city which contains about 8,000,000 persons. New Yorkers say that if the nearby New Jersey cities were included as part of "Greater New York," they would have a bigger city than London; but it the remains of scores of English monarchs and other famous persons. There they rest, no longer able to do good or to amend the sorrows they may have caused.

good or to amend the sorrows they may have caused.

One of the landmarks of London is Big Ben, the clock near the top of the tower above the House of Parliament. Big Ben has four faces, or dials, and each one is 23 feet across. This clock is trusted by the citizens, and many of them use it to correct their watches. There are no surface cars or tramways in the middle parts of London. Most of the traveling to and from work is done aboard busses. The bus fare differs with the distance covered, and is sometimes as little as a penny (two cents in our money). There is also a system of subway or "underground" trains. Automobiles run along the left side of the street, and when one is used to right-side driving, he must be careful lest he come to harm. An Englishman said to me. "Our rule is, "Keep to the left and you'll always be right."

My next stop is to be Oxford, home of the famous university.

ocean to the United States, it was announced yesterday at the Navy Department. The plans for the flight are, as yet, indefinite.

Lieut. Comdr. C. E. Rosendahl, U.S.N., who with Commander Garland Fulton, U.S.N., has sailed for Europe to make a study of the airsh.p situation in England and Germany, tentatively plans to return aboard the German airship in the event that the flight is made.

Navy officials announced that arrangements are being made at the Navai Air Station at Lakehurst, N. J., and also on the West Coast for the possible reception of the German ship.

The department has not been notified of the point in Germany from which the proposed flight will start nor of any proposed date for the beginning of the flight, although it was stated that the flight might be made in three weeks or a month. The airship may continue its flight across the continent to San Diego. Calif., without stop.

Mavis Company Sued By Coca Cola Branch

The first of a series of breach of conract lawsuits which are to be filed in the large Eastern cities was filed yesterday in Circuit Court by the Wash-ington branch of the Coca Cola conington branch of the Coca Cola concern against the Mavis Bottling Co. of America and the Mavis Corporation.

The Coca Cola concern demands $500,000 damages for the alleged breach of a contract dated March 24, 1927, whereby, it is alleged, it was given the agency for the bottled Mavis goods in the District. The defendants are alleged to have opened a branch here and distributed their own products in violation of the terms of the contract. Attorney F. Regis Noel, counsel for the Washington Coca Cola Works, Inc., stated that sixteen similar suits would be filed elsewhere along the Atlantic seaboard.

A new inner tube? Let your tooth paste pay for it

How come, you ask? Do a little arithmetic with us and find out. The average dentifrice costs you 50c. You use about a tube a month. Twelve times fifty equals six dollars, the yearly cost. Listerine Tooth Paste costs 25c (the large tube). Twelve times twenty-five equals three dollars. All right. Six dollars minus three dollars equals three dollars, your annual saving. Spend it as you please, the inner tube is merely a suggestion.

Jemanded by millionsa first class tooth paste at 25¢

WOULDN'T a young man or woman starting out in life be glad to cut the yearly tooth paste bill tooth and mouth conditions taught us from $6 to $3?

Wouldn't a man paying bills for a family of seven like to reduce the family tooth paste bill from $42 to $21? We thought they would. Investi-gation showed that thousands of others felt the same way. Therefore, we produced a really first class dentifrice at 25c for a large tube. Half of what you usually pay.

Listerine Tooth Paste is its name. Ultra-modern methods of manufacture, alone, permit such a price for such a paste.

are necessary to a first class dentifrice for the perfect cleansing of all types Outstanding among them is a mar-velous new and gentle polishing agent so speedy in action that tooth brush-ing is reduced to a minimum. We ask you to try this delightful dentifrice one month. See how white it leaves your teeth. How good it makes your mouth feel. Judge it by results alone. And then reflect that during the year, it accomplishes a worthwhile saving. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U.S. A.

Announcing a Plan of great importance to the city's Perishable and Produce Business · ·

Co

Stores for commission merchants, fronting on Water Street from 12th to 14th streets to be erected immediately.

1 4 /4

Wholesale markets, railroad terminals, cold storage plants, all to be brought into one compact whole in the Water Street Terminal area...

This solves for the City a most important problem created by building plans of the Federal Government that make necessary the removal of the present markets.

EFINITE plans for the immediate development of the Water Street Terminal area in Southwest Washington have just been announced by Colonel Wrisley Brown, President of the Potomac Freight Terminals Company.

Actual construction has already begun on part of the proposed improvements. Contracts for other parts of the work have either been let or will be let in a few days.

- 4 Principal Items of the Program— Adopted After Years of Study of Washington's Requirements
- 1. Immediate construction of stores for commission merchants fronting Water Street, with trackage connection. Modern in every respect these stores will provide about 200,000 square feet of floor space and afford facilities for the wholesale perishable merchants who are forced to move from their present quarters by the erection of the new public buildings in the old market district at B Street and Louisiana Avenue.

- 2. A new railroad bridge across Water Street to accommodate additional trackage into the Water Street Terminal area from the main tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad.
- 3. New track facilities from the new bridge into the Water Street Terminal area to serve the commission trade and other receiving and marketing agencies in this district.
- 4. The construction of modern stores for the poultry trade grouped at the corner of 12th and E Streets opposite the Water Street Terminal—to be ready for occupancy about December 1st.

Nearby at 12th and E Streets is the Cudahy Packing Company's facility. In the same vicinity there is room for other packing concerns.

Altogether these plans provide for the development of adequate facilities in this district for all the marketing agencies serving the city's population with perishable foodstuffs. The completion of the whole enterprise will see a modern coordinated wholesale market district in Washington.

Advantages to the Perishable and Produce Business that will come with this New Development

- 1 The area bound by 14th, D., 12th, 10th and Water Streets and the Washington Channel will include enlarged railroad yards for direct delivery of produce, poultry, meat, fresh fruits and vegetables; team tracks for direct truck delivery; cold storage facilities and the Municipal Fish Market, all conveniently located for the economic handling of perishable food supplies received by rail from the South and West or by truck from nearby farming regions.
- 2 In this same section the Pennsylvana. Railroad operates a produce freight terminal and a large receiving freight yard. Last year the first unit of the contemplated larger produce terminal with direct switching connections at Water Street was constructed—making available space for the display and sale of produce received in carload lots. The new bridge and trackage into Water Street Terminal area will afford facilities for the entire district.
- 3 Potomac Yard, located in Virginia near the South End of Long Bridge, is the converging point for all freight moving from the South over the Southern trunk lines. Brought into Washington over the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad most of this perishable freight is delivered near the North End of Long Bridge.
- Adequate cold storage facilities are to be found in this section of Southwest Washington. Here two large plants with a combined cold storage capacity of 2,500,000 cubic feet in addition to an ice manufacturing capacity of 400 tons per day are located. Modern in every detail of construction and equipment these plants are adequate to meet the needs of Washington's perishable and produce business.

STOCKS MOVE UPWARD IN LIVELY LATE RALLY

Selling Again Marks Early Trading; Many Motors Join Advance.

STEELS AND RAILS QUIET

New York, July 17.—Except for a smart raily in the last half hour which carried many of the leading stocks up 1 to 4 points, today's stock market was another drab affair. The day's turnover again was around 1,200,000 shares At the opening liquidation continued to make itself felt in the prominent industrials, but selling pressure was not aggressive and occasionally trading was so dull that the ticker came to a stop for two or three minutes at a time.

The rally near the close was quite spirited, but there appeared to be nothing behind it more than professional operations. Pool operators seized upon the drop in the call money rate from 6 to 5½ per cent as an excuse to force their favorites higher and in many cases they were successful. They have had little encouragement of late and it was not surprising that they should make the most of this market windfall.

should make the most of this market windfall.

Possibly the statement by John J. Raskob, in a current issue of a business magazine, that General Motors stock is now being accumulated for the formation of a second Managers Security Company in 1930, helped to attract some buying in that issue, and usually, when there is a spurt of buying in the premier automobile stock, others soon fall in line. Today was no exception to the rule.

General Motors opened at 182%, dropped back to 182%, fluctuated narrowly for a time, then began to creep upward. In the last hour it moved up sharply to 187%, then fell back as a few large blocks were offered, and closed at 186, a gain of 3% points on the day. The turnover in this stock totaled 195,400 shares.

General Electric, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Du Pont, Chrysler, Mack Truck, Radio, Unior Carbide, Wright, Curtiss, Case Threshing, Atlantic Refining, American Republics, International Nickel, Allied Chemical, American Linseed and a few others fell into line and finished with net gains ranging from large fractions to 9 points.

Some outstanding recoveries were made on rather small turnovers, including Macy & Co., up 15 points net on its stock melon cutting announcement; Motor Products Corporation, 16; McCrory Stores common and B, 4½ and 5, respectively; Burroughs Adding Machine, 4; United States Alcohol, 21½; Schulte Stores, 2½; Savage Arms, 2; Pathe A, 3½; Commonwealth Power, 2½, and Archer Daniels Midland, 2½. Losses and gains on the list as a Losses and gains on the list as a whole were about evenly divided.

The steels and rails moved narrowly in comparatively dull trading, net price changes for the most part being of a fractional character. The former rather failed to reflect the surprising action of Carnegie Steel in advancing prices on plates, shapes and bars $2 a ton followed by a similar advance at Chicago.

Atlantic Refining was prominent among the popular shares scoring swift recovery from the Monday low level. Accompanying the sharp rebound here was the report that the banking syndicate, credited with having secured the Rockefeller holdings of the company's stock, had agreed to pay a price somewhat above the current market levels. At the same time it was reported the company is to have a share in the concession secured from the Spanish government by the American Republics Corporation.

Corporation.

Trading in International Nickel took up most of the tape in the first hour. On heavy volume the price broke below 88, but it held well around that figure and rallied quickly when the pressure over the general market was lifted in the second hour. On the one hand, the street hear, the Canadian operators in street hears the Canadian operators in Nickel have had hints from their banks that their loans should be reduced; on the other, it is asserted that the Canadians are too strongly entrenched in the stock to give up and that they are determined to send it to higher lavels levels.

Foreign exchange rates firmed with the easing of money. Sterling moved up 1-16 to $4.86 3-16; French francs were firm but unchanged, guilders moved up a point, reichsmarks, 2½, pesetas, 2 points and Swiss francs ½. Swedish eased ½. Japanese rates fell six points further and those on Shanghai 10 points.

Mercantile Arcade Building

Mercantile Arcade Realty Corporation

First Mortgage 51/2% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds Due June 1, 1953

Price 963/4 and accrued interest, yielding about 5.75%

Dated June 1, 1928. Principal and interest will be payable at the office of Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., in New York or and $100, will be registerable as to principal only and will be redeemable. The Company agrees to reimburse the holders of these Bonds, upon application within 60 days after payment thereof by the holders as provided in the Trust Agreement, for any State personal property taxes or securities taxes, but in no event to exceed $\frac{5}{2}$ mills per dollar per annum and any State income taxes on interest, but in no event to exceed 6% per annum in respect to such interest.

A letter from G. J. Pearce, Vice-President of Mercantile Arcade Realty Corporation is summarized as follows:

Property and Location: Mercantile Arcade Building, completed in 1924, consists of two 12-story office buildings connected by a 3story arcade and is one of the outstanding structures in the down-town business district of Los Angeles. Each 12-story office building has a frontage of 120 feet, one facing on Spring Street and the other on Broadway. The arcade which is 120 feet wide and which affords a direct passage from Broadway to Spring Street through the office buildings, contains stores and shops on all three floors and in the basement. In all, the structure has 175,681 square feet of rentable floor space.

The location of Mercantile Arcade Building is a very strategic one. Spring Street at this point is the center of the financial district, while Broadway is the principal shopping street. The building connects these two important thoroughfares at their most congested points and provides a passage lined with stores and shops from one street to the other. Within two blocks of the Building are to be found Los Angeles' largest theatres, banks and department stores, while the suburban railway station is but a block away.

Security: These Bonds are a direct obligation of Mercantile Arcade Realty Corporation and are secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first (closed) mortgage on the land owned in fee and the Mercantile Arcade Building erected thereon, more fully described in the Trust Agreement. The fair market value of the land and building has been determined by three independent appraisers at $6,193,880, $6,285,000 and $6,289,880. The land owned in fee has been valued in each case at $3,600,000, $3,600,000 and $3,696,000 respectively. On the basis of the minimum appraisal these Bonds represent less than a 61% loan, while the value of the land alone is approximately equal to the total amount of this Issue.

Earnings: The earnings of the property constituting security for this Issue, as certified by independent auditors for the twelve months ended December 31, 1927 were: Gross Revenue, $582,814.28; Net Income Available for Interest, Depreciation, Amortization and Federal Taxes, $399,616.68; Annual Interest Requirements on these Bonds, $206,250.

A recent survey of leases now in effect indicates that the entire structure is over 85% rented.

Sinking Fund: The Trust Agreement provides for a sinking fund beginning June 1, 1931 and ending December, 1, 1952, operating through Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., calculated to retire Bonds semi-annually at a rate sufficient to redeem approximately 45% of the Issue prior to maturity.

A circular fully descriptive of the issue will be sent upon request.

BOND INTEREST INCLUSION

District Bankers' Group Plans Protest Against Payment on Receipts.

BANK STOCKS ARE STEADY

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Protesting against the inclusion of Government bond interest in the gross earnings tax return of local banks to the District government, the District of Columbia Bankers' Association yesterday supplied member banks with special forms to be used in making their returns, enumerating the securities from which interest exemption is claimed, and promising to contest the payment of taxes on such receipts.

The protest harks back to the test case filed in the District Supreme Court by the Riggs National Bank, which on May 18 of this year was decided by Justice Stafford in favor of the bank. This case is now before the Court of Appeals, and as no judgment will be forthcoming before October at the earliest, member banks will be advised to pay the tax in September under protest, Robbert V. Fleming, president of the association, indicated yesterday.

In a letter addressed by Howard Moran, chairman of the committee on taxation of the association, member banks were reminded yesterday that axation of the association, member banks were reminded yesterday that axistion of the association, member analysis were reminded yesterday that under the law of the District, all National Banks, Trust Companies and today's meeting. A successor to the late savings Banks are required to make a feturn to the District Government durant to the District Government durant to month of July or on or before savings Banks are required to make a return to the District Government during the month of July, or on or before the first day of August, for the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1929, based on the gross receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928."

In addition to the special form prepared by the association, Mr. Moran's notice included copies or a letter prepared by Frank J. Hogan, general counse; of the association, addressed to Mr. Fleming, under date of July 6, containing legal instructions. One of the inclosed forms was prepared for national banks and trust companies, and another for savings banks, due in part to the different interest rates exacted from the two groups by the District Government.

"In die course," Chairman Moran tated in his notice to member banks, further advices will be forwarded to further advices will be forwarded to the members of the disociation with respect to the filing of separate suits he sent with respect to the payment of he tax in September under protest."

7. Interest on bonds issued by the gov- 1928.

7. Interest on bonds issued by the governments of the territorial or insular-possessions of the United States.

The enumeration is followed by a statement denying that the protesting bank is taxable on the whole or on any part of the receipts derived from the above items, under the provisions of the act of Congress approved July 1, 1902, entitled "An act making appropriations to provide for the expenses of the Government of the District of Columbia for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, and for other purposes."

June 30, 1903, and for other purposes."

"The furnishing as above of information respecting its receipts from said sources is not a waiver of its claim that they are not taxable." the protesting bank's statement reads in each case, "and it hereby expressly reserves its right so to claim: it protests any assessment which may be made or which may be attempted to be made of a tax upon its receipts from said sources; and it gives notice of its intention, in every legal manner open to it, to contest the payment of taxes on its said receipts. In the event attempt should be made to enforce the same."

The forms will further state the amounts with which they believe them-selves properly taxable, and the tay payable on such amounts at the rates of interest required.

Bank Stocks Firm.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, July 17 (A.P.).—Cati Gray, president of the Union Pacific, expects gross revenues for the last half of 1928 to equal the same period in 1927 but it would be fortunate, he said, if net operating income should come up to that of a year ago. Wage awards would increase the annual pay roll by about $1,000,000. The Nebraska wheat crop possibly would be 10,000,00 bushels below 1927, but the come ron would be good.

Hupp Motor Car earned $4.15 a share in the half-year, against $1.14 a share in the first half of 1927. Net profit jumped to $4,283.221 from $1,147.822.

wither advices will be forwarded to the members of the disoctation with espect to the filing of separate suits by those members that paid the tax unper protest last March: also advices will seem that make the sent with respect to the payment of the tax in September under protest."

Items are Enumerated.

Items enumerated in the forms, increase from which is declared nontax-bile by the District of Columbia Parks.

ers Association, are the following:

1. Interest on bonds, notes and certificates of indebtedness issued by the United States Government, nontaxable as to principal and interest, with some exceptions.

2. Interest on State, municipal and county bonds, issued by States and political subdivisions of the United States.

3. Dividends o nstock of Federal Reserve Banks.

4. Interest on Federal Farm fonds.

A radiogram received from Marconi's Wireless Telegraph Co., Ltd., London Wireless Telegraph Co., Ltd., London States that an interim dividend of 10 per cent for the year ended December 31, 192., less tax, has been declared on the ordinary shares of that company. The dividend is payable on August 13, 1928, to shareholders of record July 18, 1928.

As a result one day when one of them sought recognition due to some commotion in the delegation and Senator Moses, the chairman, asked: "For what purpose does the gentleman arise," the reply came unmistakably from the rear of the hall: "Hoovah."

But it is not known that any trouble was had with Davis. He was "loyal" throughout. Yet the explanation now is that after the convention "his delegation met and replaced him."

Cohen was on the wrong side from the beginning of the fight. He has held sway in New Orleans for a long time although Emile . untz. a white man, was and is the national committeeman, up until the Kansas City convention he was in that capacity only at the pleasure of Cohen. Smith's coach, Jack Ryder, of the Boston A. A., agrees with him concerning his chances in the 10,000-meter event and suggested the doubling up process, to which the committee quickly agreed. The program for the two events calls for three hard days of competition for the Yale star within a week.

On the opening day, Sunday, July 29, e will run in the 10,000 meters. The ext Tuesday he will compete in the clais for the 5,000-meter event, and on Friday.

In making the final nominations there was some discussion in the committee whether the list of entries for the discus throw should be changed so as to include Eric Krenz, of Stanford University, the intercollegiate champion, but it was decided that no change should be made.

Eight nominees were on the list for each of the two relay races. For the 400-meter event, all of the men who will compete in the sprints, except Bob McAllister, were named.

were named.

The list of nominees for the 1,600-meter relay includes the four quar-ter-milers who are entered for the 400-meter run, as well as those listed for the relay, although the order probably will be as was in-dicated on the basis of the final tryouts.

"I'm like that. When I train with sparring partners, I box absolutely mechanically. I lead, block, counter, punch like a machine. I'm relaxed and I'm not fighting. Wait until you see me with Heeney, I'll be a different fighter. I'm 50 per cent nerves anyway. A fighter must be who wants to be a champion. No man ever became a champion who wasn't half nerves, nerves that would key him up to a supreme effort. Nerves will make up for those deficiencies you mention. Blows that are reaching me now will miss me. And I won't miss many." Certainly, the past has borne out Gene's contentions. He was reported to have worked poorly in Stroudsburg for the fight at Philadelphia in which he won the title from Dempsey, and his form was also criticized before the Chicago battle. When the experts begin to say that the champion doesn't look so good, things could hardly be better for Tunney as the champion figures.

Loughran to Abdicate His Title After Two More Fights, He Says

Specal to The Washington Post.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., July 17.—
Tommy Loughran announced a few hours after his fight with Pete Latzo last night that he probably would vacate his light-heavyweight title when the next indoor season begins.

For two reasons: He found it difficult to make the veight 'c Latzo, Tommy weighed 172½ and was in prime condition, but he didn't like the grind. And in the division just ahead is the bit money. Tom, a visionary among champions, has been thinking.

"I've just about come to the conclusion." Tommy said, as he relaxed in yellow silk pajamas, "that I've been putting my title on the line for the boys to shoot at and have said to dor several and take fewer risks. I have ocen rushing it here often, sometimes stale. Now I'm going to take a fidtery.

"The difference in recompense between the light-heavyweight and heavyweight title fights is ridiculous. Just 15 pounds between the two divisions and a million dollars difference in gate receipts. I think I'll take on Lomski and Slattery.

RAIRHAVEN, N. J., July 17 (A.P.).With a scorching sun burning

RAIRHAVEN, N. J., July 17 (A.P.).—
With a scorching sun burning down on the old barn housing the indoor ring. Tom Heeney launched his intensive training drive today for his world's heavyweight championship match with Gene Tunney in New York a week from Thursday night.
The challenger started his last eight days of training by working indoors in the heat of midafternoon. After boxing four nights in his outdoor ring, he traded punches with two new sparring partners, James J. Braddock, a Jersey
City 170-pounder, and James J. Lawless, a Harrison (N. J.) heavyweight.
Hs stepped two rounds with each, after less, a Harrison (N. J.) heavyweight. He stepped two rounds with each, after opening his workout with a round of rope skipping, two rounds whaling the light bag and round of shadow boxing. He weighed 205 pounds when he started, as a result of a day's lay-off, but probably melted off 4 or 5 pounds in his workout. His broad shoulders were glistening with perspiration when he started punching the bag and big drops of sweat splashed off his forehead when he climbed into the ring.

Hecney worked impressively with Braddock, a cagey boxer, fast, and a good puncher. He jarred the 20-pear-old Jersey City boy with a left hook to the body and a right cross to the jaw, while Braddock kept pleking away with long lefts to the head with Heeney crowding him all the time.

Braddock's punches bounded off Heeney like a rubber bail hitting the side of a building. The New Zealander drew blood from Lawless' nose in the second round of their engagement, but before the crimson came Heeney took a few hard rights on the jaw from the Harrison fighter.

It was announced that Eddie Harvey, brother of Charlie Harvey, Heeney's American manager, would be in Tunney's dressing room on the night of the fight to watch the taping of the champion's hands, an important precaution in championship battles. Harvey declared, however, that he anticipated no trouble with Tunney and promised not to try to "worry" Gene because he regards him as a gentleman.

Army Polo Team Wins From Roslyns, 13 to 3 Special to The Washington Post.

Philadelphia, July 17.—The United States Army Polo Team, rated as one of the strongest junior combinations in the sport, today defeated the Roslyn Four, of Long Island, in the second match of the junior national polo championship, 13 to 3, on the Bala Oval of the Philadelphia Country Club.

Four, of Long Island, in the second match of the junior national polo champlonship, 13 to 3, on the Bala Oval of the Philadelphia Country Club.

The United States Army combination overwhelmed the Roslyn team, which is rated at 17 goals to the soldiers' 16 goals.

The Army team is captained by Maj. George S. Patton, of Washington, D. C., well known polo and horse show enthusiast. Maj. Patton was formerly stationed at Fort Myer, Va., where he commanded the Third Cavalry and played with the cavalry team in its polo matches on the Potomac Park field. He is a great love, of the horse, the famous polo pony Allemande being one of his pets.

The Army Feur consisted of Maj. George S. Patton, number 1; Maj. C. C. Smith, of Fort Leavenworth Kans.

with a muff of O'Rourke's easy grounder and placed the latter in a position to score the Browns' first run. Other than that, he performed flawlessly, but the game wasn't close.

Braxton was in fine fettle in the first four innings, allowing the Browns one safety, while the Nats were wasting six base hits in the same period of time. In the first inning, Rice and Barnes led off with singles, but Goslin popped to Schang and Judge hit into a double play started by Brannon.

The Nats managed to put two on base with one out in the third, but Braxton was erased at third base when he overran the bag on Rice's single and Barnes grounded to Brannon for the third out. Again in the fourth, the Nats led off with two singles, but Goslin was forced at third on Reeves' bunt and Riuege hit into a double play started by Kress.

Stewart then wearied of all this commotion and permitted no more hits in his own little way.

Bobby Reeves broke the ice for Bobby Reeves broke the ice for the Browns in the fifth when he fumbled O'Rourke's grounder with one out, which was followed by Schang's first triple to center. Schang was caught at home on Stewart's attempted squeeze bunt, but the Browns renewed hostilities in the seventh.

Braxton appeared dispossessed of all Braxton appeared dispossessed of an his cunning in the seventh. They pounded his pitches back to the outfield for five hits, four in succession. Kress led off with a single past Reeves. Blue was safe when Braxton fumbled his bunt and then Braxton forced Kress his bunt and then Braxton forced Kress at third on O'R-curke's bunt. Then the cannonading started. Schang tripled to center, Stewart himself doubled to left, McNeely singled to left and Brannon singled to right. Five hits, four runs, one error and the ball game.

LEGION VOTES TO REPLAY MIDGET BASEBALL SERIES

Deprived of Honors

Demand Replay by a Count of 5-4 After

Stovall Defends Winners; Eligibility
Now Ironclad.

The midget baseball series for the Washington title sponsored by the American Legion and the Capital City League, will be replayed, it was determined last night after a heated meeting of various post representatives followed by a ballot on the proposition.

By a vote of 5 to 4, the legion represtitatives decided to strip the Lincoln Post Team of its championship, awarded the team by the executive committee of the league after it had beaten that was regarded as the final for the championship
The vote was followed by the immediate withdrawal from the league of the winning Lincoln Post Team and the two Corinthian Club Teams sponsored by Walter J. Newman. Manager John E. Zetts, of Lincoln Post, declared after the decision which stripped his tram of the title that under no consideration would he permit his players to continue in the league, characterizing the action last night as unfair, prejudiced and the act of a group of casgruntled team managers who had influenced post representatives.

The vote followed charges and counter charges by tamm managers of trickery and duplicity of the contending teams, evasion of the rules and the fact that the Washington entry when the Nats were short in outfield talent with the understanding that in case he failed to make good and all teams waived on him he would be made a free agent.

Spalding, who is 30 years of age, was believed to be too old in view of the Harrismen's plans for rebuilding the team with youngsters.

Under normal conditions Spalding make the was no room for the former was no room for the sentiment of the post representatives that the series should be played over, Capt. Harvey L. Miller, athletic director of the legion, referred the decision to the authorized representatives of the posts and the close vote resulted in favor

The position of the Lincoln Post
Team was ably defended by Manager
John E. Zetts, Clyde B. Stovall, department adjutant of the legion, and Arthur Heywood, secretary of the Capital City League. They stressed the fact that the Lincoln Post Team was one of the three teams among the sixteen The position of the Lincoln Post teams in the series to possess a spot-less record and that by virtue of its victory over the Standards it had gained its honors fairly.

The decision, which was hailed with glee by the majority of the posts represented, gives these posts an oppor-tunity to win the Washington title and the right to compete in the sectonal and regional commaments which lead up to the Junior World's series at San Antonio under the auspices of the American Legion's Americanism program.

The new series will get under way within the next three days in order that a champion may be determined before August 1, the time limit for determined the champion and entering claring a local champion and entering the team in the national tournament. The eligibility rules of the new series will be iron clad and all posts will will be fron clad and all posts will be obligated to certify the eligibility of their players to the satisfaction of the executive committee. Because of the banded when it was thought that the fact that many of the teams have distinction Post was entitled to the championship, it is doubtful if the line-up of the original sixteen teams will continue in the series.

Protests were heard from team managers who will be unable to muster their full strength on week days, and it was their opinion that a true champion could not be determined under such a plan, but they were overruled by a vote which was confined to authorized representatives of the posts. Capt. Miller yielded the chair to Thad Bater, assistant to the department commander of the local legion and Mr. Baker superintended the vecte.

A plan broached to Manager Zetts, of A pian ordered to manager zetts, of incoln Post, that his team yield its honors was speedly rejected. Zetts, standing his ground as one of the teams which had observed all rules of the series, flayed the opposition managers as poor losers.

the series, flayed the opposition managers as poor losers.

Proponents for a replay contended that Lincoln Post was not entitled to the championship in view of the fact that their victims in the final game—the Boys Club Standards—had beaten them earlier in the season and that two teams from the same section of the league should not have been permitted to play the championship game, despite the fact that no teams in the other section were eligible.

Harrismen's Record of 3 Victories in 12 Starts Against Other 3 Western Teams Is Sorry One-Clowns at "Benefit."

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

The vote followed charges and counter charges by team managers of the contending teams, evasion of the rules and the admission by all but three posts the admission by all but three posts that all teams were in the wrong.

The preseason dope indicated that only the Yankees looked sure to beat them out in the pennant race, that Washington had a fine chance to finish ahead of the Athletics, and that the worst Harris' team could look for was third place.

keep the Nats out of the first flight, but now it begins to appear that only a miracle will let them finish as good of the Western invaders, Washing-ton dropped three of four games. It then started with a rush by tak-ing both games of the opening double-header of the Cleveland set, double-header of the Cieveland set, only to lose the next two games. The clean sweep by the Browns, making six straight Washington losses, gives the Nationals a record of but three victories in the twelve starts, which is nothing to write

As a result of this sorry showing, the capital City entry is in sixth place, only one game out of the cellar.

This home stand ends here Sunday with the Tigers the last of the visitors. They play five games, opening, with a double-header tomorrow, which probably will see Lloyd Brown and Milton Gaston doing the pitching for the home team. Single games are scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

In the third round Braxton reached third in safety on Rice's single, but overslid the bag and was called out. This cost the Nats a run, for the pitcher could have scored on Barnes' roller to Brannon, which followed.

Several of the Nationals are due to go to Fort Washington tomorrow morning, where they will bat out autographed baseballs for the members of the Citizens Military Training Camp there to soramble for.

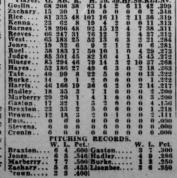

Shortstop Bob Reeves made a fine

Shortstop Bob Reeves made a fine leaping catch of Stewart's liner in the third frame, but he is still suffering from the sting of the error bug, making a miscue in the fifth of O'Rourke's roller, which was turned into the Browns' first run. As the Nats were blanked, one run more or less did not hurt them any, however.

Coaches Altrock and Schacht left last night for Winston-Salem, where they will do their stuff at a benefit game today. It is one of those benefits like the annual "Christmas Charity" fight in New York in which the participants get much of the benefits.

Considine-Wilson and Mitchell-Buchanan Clash Today.

BOB CONSIDINE and Noble Wilson meet Dooley Mitchell and William Buchanan today in the finals of the doubles championship of the public parks tennis tournament on the courts of Henry Fark, Sixth and B streets northwest at 4 o'clock.

The match probably will draw a great gathering of tennis enthusiasts and should produce some sparkling court work between the two leading doubles teams of the public clay courts. Given a day's rest after the semifinals, the players should take the court and stroke at top speed for the five sets as they have been seasoned by steady competition for the past two weeks.

Considing and Mitchell are the outsets.

Considine and Mitchell are the outstanding players on each team. Mitchell, the present singles champion, and Considine, recent winner of the doubles championship of the Middle Atlantic section with Thomas J Mangan, fr, have waded through a number of lesser lights to reach the finals in both the singles and the doubles. The singles finals will be played next Sunday afternoon on the Rock Creek courts between Mitchell and Considine.

It's a mighty handsome couple we picture here. Typical of American youth the country over. They like speed and power and the ability to cover the miles, to see the wide and smiling world. And that's why, like so many others, they pickthese "raring" power twins, "Standard" Gasoline and "Standard" Motor Oil. Like older and more experienced motorists everywhere, they know they will make any car do its very top-

STUDEBAKER "MIKADO" WILL BE SUNG BY LIGHT OPERA STARS

Gilbert and Sullivan Favorite Is to Be Broadcast at 9:30 o'Clock Tonight.

TROUBADOURS OVER WRC

The National Light Opera Company will present the ever-popular and probably the most frequently sung comic opera in the English language. Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado," at 9:30 o'clock tonight. The perform-Sodero, will include the following so-

Mikado of Japan and Pooh-Bah, John Oakley, bass; Nanki-Poo, George O'Brien, tenor; Ko-Ko, Harvey Hindermeyer, tenor; Pish-Tush, Theodore Webb, barytone; Yum-Yum, Rosalie Wolf, soprano; Pitti-Sing and Katisha, Paula Heminghaus, contraito, and Peep-Bo, Katherine Palmer, soprano. The Troubadours, whose half-hour

The Troubadours, whose half-hour program is heard at 8 o'clock, have planned an extensive serenade for tonight. They will follow in the footsteps of the original troubadours of the eleventh century, who went from balcony to balcony serenading the charms of various lovely ladies of that day and age. The modern Troubadours have selected some dozen reigning belies and will address their music to them on this date. The program includes "Sweet Lorraine," "Anita," "Katy," "Sweet Sue," "Chiquita," "Polly." "Rose Marie," "Diane," "Charmaine," "Chioe" and "Lauretta."

The program for the slumber music broadcast at 10 o'clock is as follows:

Türkish march, Mozart; wenture to "The Impresario," Mozart; werture to "The Impresario," Mozart; Whinn, "Schumann: selection from "Naughty Marietta," Herbert; "Jota." Spanish dance Granados; Grand Valse Brilliante, Chopin-Gruenwold; Pastorale, Barmotine, "Ave Maria," Schubert: "In Silent Forest," Strauss, and Nevin's "Rosary."

The Brunswick Canatrope hour of music will be put on the air at 7:30 oclock from Station WMAL. Edith Reed will be heard in a group of the latest popular numbers at 8:30 o'clock, followed by a joint rectial by Harriet Wagner, soprano, and Honald Eicher, planist. program is heard at 8 o'clock, have ist.

WRHF's "Dramadio" program will be put on the air at 6 o'clock tonight.

The Washington College of Music organ recital will be put on the air from Station WTFF at 10 o'clock tonight. Earlier in the evening the Lincoln Mackey Orchestra and the Hilo Boys will be heard.

Another Music Box period will be broadcast from Station WBAL at 9:30 o'clock tonight. The music box used during this period is over 100 years old and for many generations had lain away, forgotten and neglected, in the attic of the home of Walter N. Linthicum, one of WBAL's barytones and announcers.

Zoning Commission Hearing

GARFINCKEL PROPOSALS

to Be Taken Up Probably on Wednesday.

Insistence of the department store firm of Julius Garfinckel & Co. on the right to erect its new structure at Foureenth and F streets northwest to a height of 130 feet without setbacks above the 110-foot level has halted the restrictive program on high buildings again.

The commission now proposes, in addition to hearing arguments on the Garfinckel proposal, to consider abolishing the setbacks for all builders instead making an exception in the Gar-

Proposals for Changes,

Proposals for Changes.

Early in 1927 so many buildings 130 feet in height had been erected in the area of maximum, or 110-foot height, that it was proposed that the maximum be raised to 130 feet in the downtown district.

It was so arranged, with the exception that above the 110-foot level each from the way develop later in the standard proposed that the maximum be raised to 130 feet in the downtown district.

It was so arranged, with the exception that above the 110-foot level each additional story would have to be set back 6 inches for every foot of helpht. The National Capital Park and Planning Commission, fearing a gradual raising of the maximum business helpht that would rob the Capitol Dome and the Washington Monument of architectural domination of Washington's sky line, then proposed a still further limitation that would require all penthouses, smokestacks and other skyward protruberances to be held within the 130 feet.

A hearing was held two months ago on this proposal but no decision was reached. It has been expected that the commission would defer further consideration on all proposals affecting the height maximum and hear them all together. This plan has been abandoned.

Twenty-Nine Cases Wait.

Twenty-Nine Cases Walt. In addition to the proposed zoning amendment and the Garfinkle case, the commission next week will hear 29 cases of requested rezoning Many of them are controversial being proposals to change a restricted area to less privileged classification. Also included in the list are many more cases of "spot" zoning, applying to single premises, than usual The proposed changes are as follows:

To change A restricted zones—Southeast corner of Sixteenth and Kennedy streets northwest, to residential C; west side of Fourteenth street northwest between Whittier and Aspen Attitude of Merchants.

The Merchants & Manufacturers group not only urged a suspension of the higher rate and a reopening of the entire case, but took the position that Washington should be given the status of a metropolis so far as freight rates are concerned, with a fixed rate for delivery of coal to any part of the city. It was brought out that there is an additional charge for the delivery of coal in places other than the terminal at the end of Highway Bridge.

The board was told that 80 per cent of the soft coal used in Washington comes from the New River fields, the remainder coming from Pennsylvania and Maryland. Altogether, it was said, the city buys about 1,000,000 tons of New River coal a year.

Clerks May Fly in Planes And Distribute Air Mails

A whole service of flying mail clerks to fly on planes to distribute the mail en route as clerks now do on trains, are being considered by Postmaster General New.

Inauguration of the system is expected to take place in the near future, probably on the New York-to-Chicago section of the transcontinental route. Plans for special mail planes providing elerk already have been submitted to the Postoffice Department by one of the largest mail-carrying airplane companies.

A whole service of flying mail clerks I would be established to meet the new foundament, and many applications for transfer to it already have been received by the department from members of the present postal service. The first application was received Novembers of Olathe, Kans., who has been a railway mail clerk for 22 years.

RATE-CUTTING WAR OPENED IN-CAPITAL BY TAXI COMPANY

Red Top Charge Reduced to 15 Cents, Commission Is Notified.

REDUCTION WILL SAVE 10 CENTS EACH TRIP

Utilities Body Plans Hearing on the Diamond Cab Jitney Service.

A rate-cutting war betweent taxicabs is in progress in Washington. Earl I. Klein, president of the Red Top Cab Co., yesterday notified the Public Utilities Commission that beginning today Red Top cabs would reduce their initial 25-cent charge to 15 cents. The Diamond cabs of the Independent Taxicab Owners Association have been charging 15 cents for the first quarter mile for some time. The change will leave the Black and White and Yellow Cab companies as the only ones adhering to the old initial rate.

No slash was announced in the secondary rate of 10 cents per quarter mile after the first quarter. Thus the change will mean a reduction of 10 cents on each trip by a Red Top cab.

No Hearing Planned. Red Top cabs would reduce their initial
